

If I Ruled the World

What is there to change in this world? Improve? Destroy? what does this world revolve around?

Some would say money. Some would say love. Yet it is all the very simple things we forget to appreciate every day. This gift of a world we live in does not need fixing. It is the minds of those who live in it we need to change. The minds that look to money in the toughest of times, and forget that happiness is the most fulfilling feeling a person can achieve.

If I ruled the world, it would be an utter disaster! I would run a world overruled with greed for power and fame. It's the flaw of the universe. Humans. We're all born into a different situation, a different family, a different race. We should use that to our advantage. The best thing in life is how different we are from one another.

Most people would say, "If I ruled the world, I would make it a better place".

A better place ...how?

We have plants for oxygen, shade and the colour in our lives. earth gives us that. we should protect it and conserve it to its fullest potential. we have water for drinking but instead we mix it with chemicals to produce something not only unpure, but gives us a sense of exhilaration. We should value precious necessities such as these, not waste them.

Should we find out how to run cars on hydrogen. Sure.

But if I sat down and thought about it once again, my world would be terrifying. Not only would I be a monster, but those who live in it would only know the materialistic value of objects. This is why the world should not be ruled by me. under anyone in fact.

Every person on this earth is able to contribute to the world in a different fashion. Let's keep it that way.
